

Why Isn't My Session Location Always Accurate?

Session location is based on information provided by your mobile carrier and other location-related signals outside of SweetWater Health's control.

Because of that, saved session locations may occasionally be approximate rather than exact.